

CARDS BATTLE PERU'S ELEVEN AT 2 O'CLOCK

Play Homecoming Tilt
At N. S. S. A. Park,
30th and Wirt

OMAHA FAVORED

HE Omaha Cardinals will meet their traditional Homecoming rivals, the Peru Bobcats, on the N. S. S. A. field at 2 o'clock today. After a large and enthusiastic parade, old grads, students and friends of the school will stream into the bleachers and prepare to watch the Cardinals win their fifth straight victory this year and their third consecutive win from the Bobcats in the last three years.

The dope this year is that Omaha will be on the heavy end of the score. According to the teams' records this is very likely to happen. Omaha beat Kearney badly, Kearney whipped Nebraska Wesleyan, and the Wesleyans beat Peru.

Omaha has played and won some tough games this season and they are in perfect condition.

An unusually large attendance is expected for this game, as it is the school's Homecoming game and only the second home game this season. Many will come to this game to honor Sed Hartman and a team that has come up from the bottom of the N. I. A. A. conference to become the head of it for two years. The team has progressed so far under his guidance that the Cardinals have entered the North Central Conference and are, at present, head of that conference. This puts Omaha in the enviable position of being the tops in two different conferences.

Sed's record since then reads like an alumni's dream. In the fifth year of football at the Omaha University under Hartman's tutelage, the team has lost only 6 out of 33 games. This year we

Charlotte Niven To Make Address At Convention

Miss Charlotte T. Niven, general secretary of the World's Council of the Y. W. C. A., will address a student convocation in Jacobs' Hall Wednesday, November 6. She will speak on "Youth: The World's Future."

As a student of social problems Miss Niven has traveled extensively in Europe. She lived a number of years in Geneva, Switzerland, and since that time has kept in touch with the activities of the League of Nations and international problems, centering in Geneva.

Miss Niven recently returned to America from a tour of the Orient, in the course of which she visited India, China and Japan.

Miss Niven is an aunt of Thornton Wilder, author of "Heaven's My Destination," a recent Book-of-the-Month club selection.

Ken Turner New Prexy Of Barbs

Kenneth Turner, '36, was elected president of the newly formed Barb organization at a meeting Monday, October 21. Turner is a senior representative to the Student Council. He is also president of the Council and a member of the University's football team.

"Our organization is not seeking to cause friction between the Greek societies and the Barbs, but rather to co-operate with every organization of the campus," Turner stated after his election.

Other officers elected at the meeting are: Ednell Benson, '38, vice-president; Mary Ann Harrington, '37, secretary; Jack Bittner, '39, treasurer; and Loren Gammon, '36, sergeant-at-arms.

The group is planning a dance to be held soon after the Homecoming celebration, according to an announcement made at the meeting.

PRESIDENT SEEKS COUNCIL'S ADVICE ON STUDENT FUND

Discuss Expenditures
At Special Meeting
Of The Council

PRESENT BUDGET

President Rowland Haynes called a special meeting of the Student Council Monday, October 21, to ask the advice of the Council on the expenditures to be made from the Student Activities fund for this year.

"I felt that in a student activity fund, I should have the advice of the Student Council before the money is spent, even though the final word rests with me," stated Mr. Haynes in explaining his reason for calling the meeting.

Mr. Haynes asked the Council what should be done with the two hundred and twenty-five dollar balance. He presented the following

Dr. Murray Will Address Banquet

Dr. Floyd J. Murray, a member of the Board of Regents, will be the principal speaker at the Homecoming banquet to be held at 8:30 this evening in Jacobs' Hall. Reed Zimmermann, a former student at the University, will make an address on behalf of the University of Omaha Alumni Association.

Other speakers at the banquet will be Macy Baum, the toastmaster; Franklin Spangler, freshman class president; and Ellen Hartman, junior vice-president.

Following the dinner, Jacobs' Hall will be cleared for dancing. Joslyn Hall will be left open for the students while the hall is being cleared. Gordon Quiller and his band will play for the Homecoming dance, which will begin at 9:00 o'clock.

Princess Presented At Student Rally On Campus

MEN ATTENDANTS

Elinor Johnson is Princess of Homecoming. The identity of the Princess was revealed this morning at the rally held on the campus. Dressed in an Indian ceremonial gown, Princess Elinor, beautiful and radiantly happy, was presented to the student body at the rally held on the campus this morning. She was attended by two Omaha braves, John Moucka and Carson Rogers.

The Princess is president of Pi Omega Pi sorority. She is an active member of the Women's Athletic Association and Feathers, women's pep organization. Miss Johnson has also served as vice-president of Sigma Pi Phi, education fraternity.

The Homecoming parade will form along Twenty-fourth street at 11:00 o'clock. It will start at the school and continue through the downtown districts. Each organization of the school will have a float and each will attempt to outdo the others in noise and decorations.

A combination of the Indian and Homecoming themes will be used on most of the floats.

Indians will be seated on the engine of the Barb float and will continue to the center of the back to a pole with a burning dummy representing Peru. At the rear there is to be a totem pole and an Indian beating a tom-tom seated before it.

A float decorated in red and black will carry the "Feathers," who will lead in yells along the route.

Slay Peru

Alpha Sigma Lambda are to have a sacrificial scene in the center of their float representing Peru as the victim. Toward the rear will be a tree hung with scalp. The Gamma Sigma Omicron Indians will be standing over the body of a football player and a bobcat.

Several decorated cars will be used by Kappa Psi Delta instead of a float. Instead of Indians, Eskimos will be seated around an Igloo on the Phi Delta Psi float. Across the Igloo will be a large

Questionnaires Are Filed With Dean

The interest-questionnaires circulated to the men students of the University regarding their views on various extra-curricular activities are now on file in the dean-of-men's office. The questionnaires are available to any interested campus organization, according to Dean L. M. Bradfield.

The questionnaire, which was circulated recently at an all-men's convocation, is a source of names of individuals interested in the activities outside of the class room and will only be of value to the school organizations if they use them to the fullest extent, Bradfield said.

Pi O Founders' Banquet Monday

Pi Omega Pi sorority will hold their annual Founders' Day banquet Monday evening in the Fontenelle Cameo room. Dorothy Hansen, '35, is in charge of the arrangements for the banquet. She will be assisted by Edna Jacobson and Bernice Corbaley. Dorothy Stone, Mary Alice Nelson and Violet Devaney will speak.

Dorothy Stone, alumna; Mary Alice Nelson, active; and Violet Devaney, pledge, will make the toasts of the evening.

propositions that have been suggested to him: First, that the money be used to pay for part of the expenses of the trip to Vermillion, South Dakota, November 2; second, that uniforms, consisting of a cape and cap, be purchased for the band; and third, that a surplus be created to finance the publication of a year-book.

Members of the Council suggested that the trip to South Dakota should be financed, if possible, without the aid of the fund. It was decided to wait for further discussion of the division of the activity fund until an estimate of the cost of outfitting the band has been made.

President Haynes has allotted twenty-five dollars to the Council to be used for the Homecoming celebration if the expenses cannot be met by the Council alone. The president has also raised the amount allotted annually to the debate team from seventy-five dollars to two hundred and fifty dollars.

The president presented the following budget of the Student Activities fund to the Council:

INCOME
Incidental fees	$1,100
EXPENDITURES
Gateway	$550
Debating	250
Flags	50
Homecoming	25
	875
Balance	$ 225

Five Years Ago

1. The university faculty held a moonlight weiner roast in Hummel Park and held an election of faculty officers in their impromptu outdoor meeting room.

2. The winning margin of 52 to 0 by which Omaha beat Central College was one of the largest ever amassed by the university's eleven.

3. The Barbs were even then attempting an organization.

4. Alpha Sig and Theta freshman pledges were obliged to wear becoming green freshmen caps; the actives saw to the carrying out of the decree.

ON TO SOUTH DAKOTA

Special Train To Vermillion For Rooters

One hundred and fifty Omaha University students are expected to leave for Vermillion, South Dakota, Saturday morning, November 2, on the "Football Special" which will carry rooters for the Cardinals' game with the University of South Dakota.

The round-trip fare for the first 150 persons signing up will be $2.50, and all over that number will pay $2.84.

This is the first time that mass support of the Omaha team at an out-of-town game has been attempted by the student body, and co-operation of the faculty and alumni is expected.

Kenneth Hargrove, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, is in charge of the arrangements.

"The students are displaying real enthusiasm over the trip," according to Hargrove, "and we'll have plenty of color and several peppy acts en route."

The "Football Special" will leave at 7:30 Saturday morning and return late the same night.

Several sheets are being circulated on the campus and all persons interested are requested to sign at once.

WELCOME, ALUMNI!

Welcome home, University of Omaha alumni! Each year the undergraduates extend this greeting to former students of the University. The greeting never grows old, nor does age lessen its significance or detract from the pleasure of extending it.

We are proud to welcome you back today to our university and your university. The foundations of a great municipal university have been laid by you; and upon your foundations we are helping to build a great edifice, dedicated to your ideals conceived by you, the students of the University before us. In the years to come we shall be the alumni of the University of Omaha and we could ask no more than that our Homecoming be heralded by a welcome as sincere and heart-felt as we are extending to you.

A NEW ORGANIZATION

An action without precedent in the history of the University of Omaha has been taken by the students of the University who are not affiliated with the Greek letter societies. They have organized themselves into one body, united in their determination to participate in the activities of the University.

More than one-half of the student body are non-Greeks. Heretofore these students have been inactive and uninterested in the affairs of the University. Driven by the realization of the strength in their numbers and the desire to develop a group of enthusiastic supporters of the University, the Barbs have selected a princess of Homecoming candidate; they have sent six representatives to the newly formed women's pep association; and have made plans, comparable to those made by any other organization on the campus, to participate in the celebration today.

The president of the new Barb organization has stated that the group is not seeking to cause friction between the Greek societies and the non-Greek students, but rather to earnestly co-operate with every organization on the University's campus. May the sororities and fraternities be far-sighted enough to realize the importance of accepting this cooperation that is now being offered!

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Two weeks ago, at the convocation assembly, those present were asked to fill out a blank with a list of extra-curricular activities.
The purpose was to get a tentative survey of those interested in the various activities, in order to revive more interest in some of the important extra-curricular work, which until the present was apparently dead.

The administration realizes the importance of such activities; it realizes that a university cannot function properly without some of these programs. Extra-curricular activities

Thru The Keyhole

Well, the dear old Sig Chi's really put out the dirt....We found out that Clough has a temper.... her temper is nearly as bad as the floor was....I guess they must have thought that something was going to happen....Did you notice all the sponsors there?....They also tell us that Sklenicka almost collided with one of the sponsors on a sudden "draw"....Donlon tells us that Nelson is not only a good dancer, but?....Even Kozak is returning to the old stand-by....and claims he had a good time....and to top the dance off "Andy" said little or nothing to Mary all evening....so she says that the dance was a flop.

New rules have come out governing the Keyhole, so youse gals with Puppy Loves, don't come to us....or don't do anything that we can't print....
Who said this—"Hesler, you are so sweet that I could kiss you?"....Poor "Dutch"?....By the way, Rogers, we still can't figure out who your "Aunt" is....and how about that blind date to the Theta?
Stringer seems to be leading that boy in blue on ....Who is he, Betty? Let us in on the secret....
Congrats to the Homecoming Committee for their hard work....It seems that they are really working for a change....In fact, they even broke down and let the team in for winning today....we hope.

Amy says she has good news for someone, but she won't tell us....In fact, she says there must be some reason for Rachman driving by school so often....Anybody ever hear of him?....By the way, is Lehmer still trying to get in good with Max?....Our guess is that he is out....Right, Max?
....It sure looked like "Peg" Gloe was having a good time with Peterson....Let us know if you need any help, Peg....It sure will be a paradise for the fellows this week with all those girl stags ....Then is when we really find out who is who and why....And, by the way, congrats to those guys who are putting out an extra six-bits for the Banquet and the dance....Poor Keaton, Nygaard, Hargrove, Vogel and the rest of those Dummies that go steady....Leigh seems to still think that the river isn't so cold....He has Tommy dated up so far that no one else has a chance....Well, no more, so so-long.

ON THE MAGAZINE RACK

By LLOYD L. LEE

I Was Fired From a Hick College—Atlantic Monthly (Wendell Brooks Phillips)

The ominous problem of academic freedom again raises itself in the October issue of the Atlantic Monthly. Mr. Phillips writes in an interesting style of the poor conditions of colleges of the South. He shows how provincialism and local customs leave the constituents for the most part ignorant of the constantly changing cross-currents of progressing civilization. "If the students were living in the present, the faculty were frozen somewhere in the nineteenth century, and the trustees were petrified in the days of John Calvin." Liberal professors from the north with new ideas contrary to the narrow concepts of southern "culture" are immediately dismissed. Mr. Phillips asserts that southern communities have not the faintest notion as to the meaning of a liberal education. (Here is an excellent field for Dr. Payne's Humanities classes.)

Because Mr. Phillips poured out gentle irony over bigotry and smug complacency, and because he sharply questioned mechanized churchgoing and the entire pattern of conventional American life, he was fired from a hick college. He urges students in hick colleges everywhere to rise and demand an "education."

Italy's African Balance Sheet—The New Republic
(Vera Micheles Dean)

Vera Micheles Dean, an authority on political science, gives a clear and concise sketch of the history of Italian colonial economy in the October 23 "New Republic." Vera Dean shows how Italy's four African colonies—Tripoli, Cyrenaica, Eritrea, and Somaliland—have proved themselves liabilities in spite of various attempts at solution and diplomatic maneuvering. This writer sets forth substantial facts denying the supposition that the conquest of Ethiopia will solve Italy's colonial problem.
This is a fine article for students of contemporary European history.

have important bearing upon the necessary enthusiasm of a student body.

This enthusiasm, we feel, has been lacking to a large degree on our campus. With the support of the administration we should go far in bringing it to a more important level at Omaha U.

Would You Marry For Love?
Maxine Lecky, '39—I believe I would marry for money.

Jane Van Husan, '39—Love, of course.

Eleanor Shubert, '39—Certainly
I would marry for love.

Ruth Hall, '39—This is so sudden. Most of a certainty.

Carol Wigton, '39—I'm planning on it.

Gladya Lehr, '36—I hope to, but if I saw I was getting old and in danger of becoming an "old maid" and still hadn't fallen in love, I would marry someone who had a comfortable income and could take good care of me.

Elaine Robertson, Graduate Student—I would if I had to live in a tent.

Lillian Anderson, '38—I would, but it would be so much nicer if he had money also.

Everna Ashwood, '39—Surely, but don't you dare print that.

The following students I was unable to interview personally, but their friends gladly supplied the information.

Betty Lou Stringer, '38—Companionship is the most noble thing in the world.

Beth Campbell, '39—Anything I can get.

As a steward of psychology the results of this questionnaire are very interesting, as they point out what people have been suspecting all along. That the girls of today are no better than the girls of yesterday or vice versa (you can leave the versa out and put the vice in or you can do as you please about it and let the whole thing drop). However, it does indicate that the girls of today are not looking out for the better things in life, such as diamond studded spectacles and those other trinkets which girls prize so highly. It all comes down to one thing. A fellow might as well be born rich as good looking.
Either way he is behind the eight ball. Furthermore, I have statistics to prove what I am driving at. Carefully gathered statistics prove that in 1932 exactly half the people that were married were men, whereas in 1933 half of the people married were women. This proves my point conclusively.

Reaction Survey By "Gateway"

The Gateway is attempting a survey among the student body in an effort to determine the reader reaction to the paper. The results of the study will be profitably used by the editorial staff in determining the future editorial policies of the paper and suggestions applicable to betterment of this publication will be used. The staff would like to get a definite view of the reading habits of the students.

We are printing below a questionnaire which we wish you to fill out and drop in The Gateway box just inside the south entrance of Joslyn Hall.

IN YOUR OPINION:

1. What is the most popular feature of The Gateway?
2. What is the least popular feature of The Gateway?
3. Do you usually read the editorials?
4. Do you think too much space is devoted to athletics?
5. Do you read the advertisements?
6. Is The Gateway read by members of your family?
7. What is the most interesting column in The Gateway?
8. List briefly on a sheet of paper suggestions to the staff.

In order to have an accurate survey at least ten per cent of the student body should respond to the questionnaire. Here is your opportunity to tell us your likes and dislikes, and if you do not take advantage of the opportunity then we will listen to no complaints concerning The Gateway in the future.

Frosh Gridsters Lose First Game

The Omaha University freshmen lost their first game of the year to the South Dakota University yearlings by a score of 20 to 6, last Friday, on the 24th and Ames field.

The young Cardinals scored first when Reimann, end, blocked a punt in the first quarter and Harper, center, fell on the ball over the goal.

The visitors tied the score a few minutes later after they gained heavily on punt exchanges. They went ahead in the second quarter when a blocked punt resulted in a safety, and iced the game in the second half with a pair of touchdowns.
